

- Well-Horse is a blend of resins harvested from certain trees of the Amazon rain forest.

- For centuries this blend has been applied to wounds to stop bleeding.

- Accelerates healing by promoting the formation of new collagen.

- Regenerates tissue fast .

- Protects injuries from infection. The resin dries quickly and forms a barrier much like a second skin.

- Trees are not harmed during the harvesting process. The same technique is used to harvest maple syrup.

- Harvesting sustainable resources is a viable solution to saving the rainforest from complete destruction.

- One acre of Amazon rainforest can produce $2,400 annually of renewable, sustainable resources versus a one time income of $400 for timber clear cutting.

- Natural Active Ingredients: Antioxidants, phenols, diterpenes, phytosterols and lignans.

Regenerates healthy tissue

My horse "Toma" suffered from a severe case of "Scratches" (a skin condition) for several months. I tried many different products without success. My Farrier gave me a bottle of Well-Horse to try out. I used it for 5 days. As you can see from the pictures the results were phenomenal.

The infection cleared up completely and did not come back.
